

Newsletter 1

June 2024

Join us at ISMH17

Dear members of the Maritime Health Community,
dear friends, dear all,

We are all working to improve the health and lives of all the men and women out at sea. Sharing knowledge and data is key to making progress.

We are happy to announce that the countdown to ISMH17 has begun. The website is live, the ticket sales have started and the abstract submission is open! Join us in Rotterdam, where we will convene once again to explore the latest advancements in maritime health care. Be a part of that journey!

Best regards,

Your Conference Team

Suzan, Rosalie, Kirby, Annemarie,

Walther Boon, Chair ISMH17

In this edition:

- Early bird tickets now available
- Abstract submission is open
- The venue
- Partner Program: Experience Rotterdam
- Don't miss out
- Next newsletter

June 11 – 14, 2025

Rotterdam

ISMH17.org

info@ismh17.org

Early bird tickets now available

Be among the first to secure your place at ISMH17 with our early bird tickets, priced at € 795. If you're an IMHA member, enjoy a discounted rate of € 745.

Never been an IMHA member? Take advantage of our special offer: sign up for an introductory IMHA 2025 membership and get a conference ticket for just € 795. And, as IMHA member, you will also gain access to the International Maritime Health Journal.

Buy your ticket now and prepare to join fellow professionals in advancing maritime health care.

Abstract submission is open

Share your expertise at ISMH17 by submitting an abstract for presentation. Whether you're a seasoned writer or new to abstracts, our team is here to assist you in showcasing your research and insights.

A scientific committee will review all submissions. If your abstract is accepted, you will be invited to present your work at the conference either as an oral presentation or a poster presentation.

Go to abstract submission.

Venue: STC Maritime & Logistics University

Prepare to be inspired at ISMH17's venue, the STC Maritime & Logistics University, nestled along Rotterdam's stunning waterfront. Enjoy panoramic views of the city skyline as you engage in meaningful discussions and networking opportunities.

ISMH17 Newsletter 1, June 2024.

Don't want to receive the ISMH17 newsletter anymore? Reply and say "Stop sending newsletters".

Partner Program: Experience Rotterdam

Bring your partner along and treat them to our Partner Program, featuring cultural and tourist activities and enjoying the conference dinner on Friday. Immerse in Rotterdam's vibrant culture with guided tours and more!

Get your partner ticket here to ensure an unforgettable experience.

Don't miss out!

Don't miss this opportunity to join the global community of medical professionals dedicated to maritime health. Secure your place today and start looking forward to ISMH17 in Rotterdam!

Next newsletter

Stay tuned for our next newsletter, where we will unveil special hotel deals, the scientific committee, the conference programme, and additional parallel sessions catering to specific interests, for example the parallel programme for French and Spanish speakers.

Subscribe to our newsletter to receive the latest updates straight to your inbox.

IMHA

The bi-annual International Symposium on Maritime Health is awarded by the International Maritime Health Association.

Visit our website: ismh17.org

ISMH17 Newsletter 1, June 2024.

Don't want to receive the ISMH17 newsletter anymore? Reply and say "Stop sending newsletters".

ISMH 17